Short Bio

Flavio Menezes is a Professor of Economics at the School of Economics at The University of Queensland. He joined The University of Queensland in June 2006 after more than a decade at the Australian National University, where amongst other responsibilities he was the Foundation Director of the Australian Centre of Regulatory Economics. Flavio was also a part-time Vice President with the Regulatory Economics and Public Policy Practice at CRA International in Canberra until May 2006 and a Senior Consultant until May 2007.

Flavio Menezes has published over 50 journal articles on the economics of auctions, competition and regulatory economics, industrial organization, and market design. He is regarded as Australia's leading auction expert and author of a well-known textbook on auction theory published by Oxford University Press. Flavio Menezes has presented seminars and delivered lectures in the American, Europe and in the Asia Pacific Region. He has lectured to both academic audiences and practitioners. His academic career has taken him to world renowned institutions as a visitor. He is a Vice President of the Economic Society of Australia (Queensland Branch), a member of editorial boards and associate editor of a number of international journals.

Professor Menezes has a rich consulting experience. Overseas consulting includes being the main advisor on the determination of a privatisation model for utilities, reviewing government procurement practices, and providing advice on electricity regulatory reform and competition issues in telecommunications, banking, health and dairy industries. Consulting experiences in Australia include advising the Federal Government, AEMC, ACCC, IPART, QCA and the Victorian Government on market design issues in regulatory environments and providing economic advice to various private and public organisations on mergers, competition policy cases and regulatory issues in defence, energy, banking, health, transport and telecommunications.

RESEARCH

Highlights

- ❑ Menezes (1996) is cited to explain low revenue in some spectrum auctions in the USA and in Europe; Menezes (1993) and Menezes and Monteiro's (1997 and 2000) work on entry in auctions is recognised as providing important insights into market design in electricity, telecommunications, and across a range of sectors; Menezes and Monteiro's (1998) research on pooled auctions is regarded as providing an attractive alternative design for telecommunication auctions.
- ❑ Recent research on market design and on regulation is regularly cited in regulatory proceedings both in Australia and overseas.
